PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD'S DECISION

APPELLANT: Shelly Korey
DOCKET NO.: 05-00839.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 16-34-305-030

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Shelly Korey, the appellant, by attorney Mitchell L. Klein of Schiller, Klein & McElroy, P.C., in Chicago, and the Lake County Board of Review.

The subject property consists of a 42-year-old, two-story style brick dwelling that contains 3,309 square feet of living area. Features of the home include central air-conditioning, one fireplace, a 484 square foot garage and a partial unfinished basement.

Through his attorney, the appellant submitted evidence to the Property Tax Appeal Board claiming unequal treatment in the assessment process as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted a grid analysis of four comparable properties, one of which is located on the subject's street and block. The comparables consist of two-story style brick or frame dwellings that range in age from 34 to 41 years and range in size from 3,120 to 3,392 square feet of living area. Features of the comparables include central air-conditioning, garages that contain from 483 to 588 square feet of building area and full or partial unfinished basements. These properties have improvement assessments ranging from $105,529 to $130,888 or from $33.83 to $40.65 per square foot of living area. The subject has an improvement assessment of $140,243 or $42.39 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's assessment.

The board of review submitted "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's total assessment of $248,691 was disclosed. In support of the subject's improvement assessment, the board of review submitted property record cards and a grid analysis of three comparable properties, two of which are located on the subject's street. The comparables consist of two-story style brick or brick and frame dwellings that range in age from 28 to 39 years and range in size from 2,916 to 3,564 square feet of living area. Features of the comparables include central airconditioning, one fireplace, garages that contain from 480 to 627 square feet of building area and partial unfinished basements. These properties have improvement assessments ranging from $125,623 to $154,778 or from $43.08 to $44.18 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence the board of review requested the subject's total assessment be confirmed.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Property Tax Appeal Board further finds that a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted. The appellant's argument was unequal treatment in the assessment process. The Illinois Supreme Court has held that taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). The evidence must demonstrate a consistent pattern of assessment inequities within the assessment jurisdiction. After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has not overcome this burden.

The Board finds the parties submitted seven comparables for its consideration. The Board gave less weight to one of the appellant's comparables because its frame exterior differed from the subject's brick exterior. The Board gave less weight to one of the board of review's comparables because it was significantly newer than the subject. The Board finds five comparables were similar to the subject in style, age, size, features and location. These properties had improvement assessments ranging from $33.83 to $43.43 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $42.39 per square foot of living area falls within this range. The Board thus finds the evidence in the record supports the subject's assessment.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. The requirement is satisfied if the intent is evident to adjust the burden with a reasonable degree of uniformity and if such is the effect of the statute enacted by the General Assembly establishing the method of assessing real property in its general operation. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill.2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity, which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence.

In conclusion, the Board finds the appellant failed to establish unequal treatment in the assessment process by clear and convincing evidence and the subject property's assessment as established by the board of review is correct.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board are subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
